Compliments of W. Quagliaroli/Evergreen Tree Service

As our personal safaris began, we were young tourists, inexperienced in our travels and overwhelmed by what lay ahead.

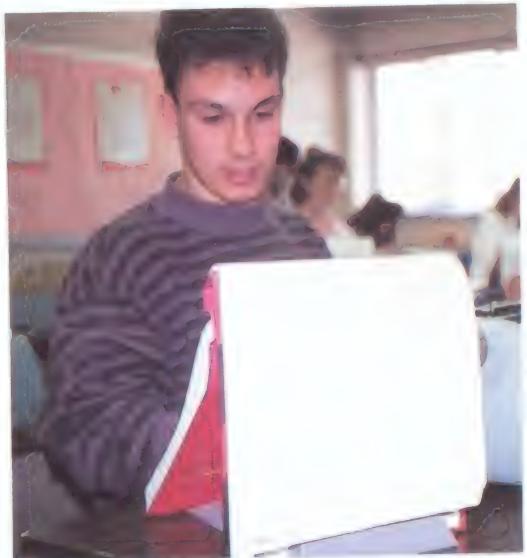

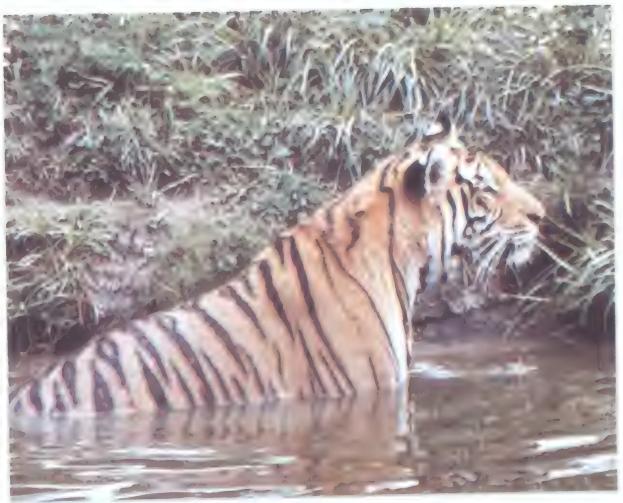

As we progressed, the paths through the jungle became less winding and the obstacles were more easily overcome.

When we set out,
there were tour guides who kept us on the right path, protected
us from threatening animals and taught us survival techniques.

Now we must blaze our own trail, each one going in its own separate direction, but all of them going forward.

In this new jungle, the safari ends. We stop simply viewing the action, we must now take part in it.

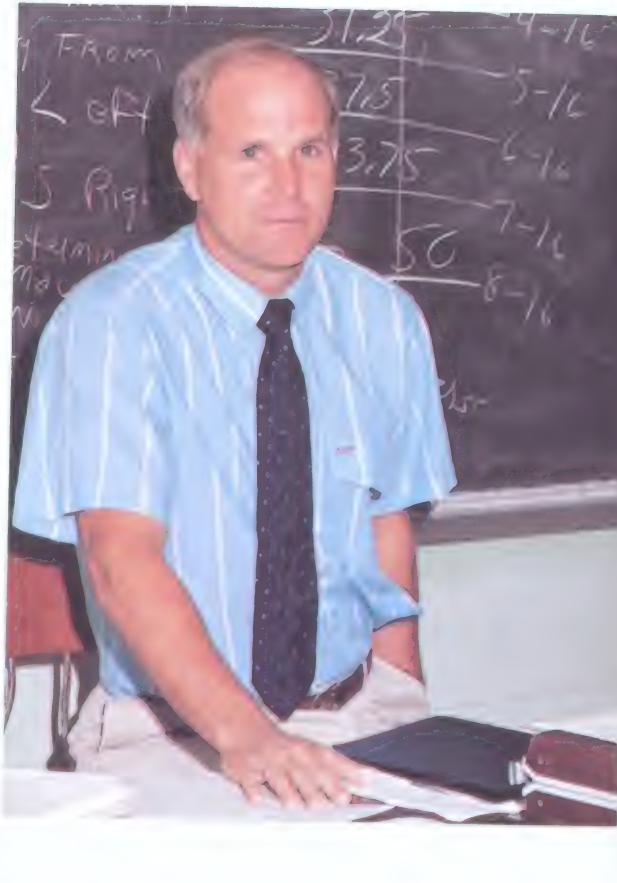

We, the Class of 1990, would like to dedicate our yearbook to the teacher who has always been there for us. He has pushed us to do our best in both his health and science classes and on the track team he coaches.

In recognition of his contributions to our high school years, we proudly dedicate our yearbook to

Mr.
James O'Brien

We felt the lack of his presence during our senior year, as he left us to teach at the Middle School.

Our senior year is a time of great change and achievement. We see ourselves in a different light, and so do others around us. We are now looked upon as young adults, who are faced with adult choices. Though we will all make different choices, the fact that we are all choosing has brought us together as a senior class. Because we are all individuals, there is no right or wrong decision to be made.

Through these decisions, we have achieved. These accomplishments should not be isolated to our senior year alone, but to our whole high school career. Personal records have been set from the playing fields to the performing stage, and from the magazine drive to the senior class play. There is a special sense of pride and unity which results from working together. This yearbook is an excellent example of what we can achieve through cooperation and hard work. As the editors, we would like to wish the Class of 1990 good luck in whatever you choose and congratulations on whatever you achieve.

We, the explorers of 1990, leave the following will as our first safari comes to an end.

I, Stephanie Agli, leave the Stephmobile to Chris and Beth; our phone conversations to Nicki; and an empty chair in guidance.

I, Roland Arsenault, leave janitor work for the other students to do; and the scale to the nurses.

I, Scott Barber, leave my jeans jacket; and the record for the most incomplete homework assignments.

I, Dorothy Baron, leave my gavel to the next WLYC chairperson; all of the success I have had to my sisters, who will soon follow; and memories of the good times to all my friends.

I, Thomas Benefield, leave my spirit to haunt those halls of fools, as inspiration to the WILDEST of hearts; hope for the ones who dare; and you, the one I fell in love with so very long ago.

I, Kevin Bernaski, leave my male chauvinistic ways to anybody who can keep up the tradition; the talent of scumming rdes to anyone who can do it as well as I can; and the will not to do homework and just get by to anybody who is stupid enough.

I, Shelly Bertrand, leave a box of rice to J.L.; a David Lee Roth tape in the lab; and telling A.L.B. "I know where you live!"

I, Kristen Bessette, leave Jay and Matt to get their own ride to school; and John to find someone else to run in the Charley Horse Race.

I, Nancy Bournique, leave as the last Bournique to pass through the halls; good luck to Chris B. in her senior year; and thanks to my parents and family for the love and support they have given me.

I, Richard Bursztyn, leave mental torture; and an upset stomach from school lunch.

I, Paul Butchyk, leave Mr. G.'s and Mr. R.'s talent to the future musicians; Mr. G. to any little, snotty brat, if you're stupid enough to act like one; and the weight lifting room to anyone who can handle it.

I, Joseph Butler, leave the role of captain to Kenny, Kevin, and Mike; the sober Friday nights to the whole football team; and the great times with my friends, especially Kevin & Kenny — but not forever.

I, Christopher Capuano, leave the challenge of anyone having as good a time as I did with JT, JH, JH, RH, DM, TM, JS, and J Capp; the smoke from the back of my car to anyone who thinks he can keep up; and my spotless criminal record, because no one has ever caught us.

I, Lisa Carrabbia, leave Dawny the high school boys — college men are mine; Nickels time to learn - ya know what I mean; and Mr. S., happy that I was the last Carrabbia. Wasn't it fun, though, big guy.

I, Amy Chabot, leave Mr. P. my blank math team application; WLHS guys to anyone who wants them; and a lot of good memories to the people who helped make them.

I, Christopher Chabot, leave the school lunch to anyone who can stomach it; my gym shorts to the person that thinks he can fill them as I did; I came, I saw, and I left.

I, Jennifer Chamberlain, leave thanks to Mom and Dad for always being there for me; all the luck in Chemistry to Brian M.; and the best of luck in high school to my sister Amy.

I, Mark Chapman, leave my mischievous activities; the caf food; and Bob.

I, Stephanie Corder, leave all the laughter in the world to Steph Banks; the challenge to go through a year of English without getting kicked out to Ryan Starkey; and Nick Bonadies to clean my locker.

I, Robin Corey, leave my mouth to anyone who thinks he or she can top it; my attitude to my sister, Tammy Corey; and my popularity to Jessica Berube, who really needs it.

I, Shannon Corey, leave all my good times with Kelly (sis) and some advice to her: enjoy high school — it goes by too fast.

I, Michael Cosker, leave coach's ideas to Ham and Hythm; Class of '90's partying ways to all future classes; and Mr. Beaudry's tests to anyone who can finish one.

I, Michele Covielo, leave thanks to my mom for always being there; and the J.F. joke to M.J.

I, Tammi Crunk, leave all the luck to Michael, Jay, and Kevin; and my seat in Mr. S.'s office to my cousin — I know he'll fill it well.

I, Jenny Dagleish, leave my heart and good times to Ryan; and the town of Windsor to Steph O. to race through freely.

I, Kim DeForge, leave Laurey behind since she was supposed to be ahead.

I, Philip Desovich, leave my Syncopated Poly Rythms to Brandon; some real excitement to Mr. Muska; and the time 8:08 for someone else to argue about.

I, David DiCioccio, leave all of my posi strips; and all of my bad habits.

I, Loren Donnelly, leave many pleasant memories to my buddy Bob; and a record of tardies, detentions, suspensions, absences, and classes skipped that's hard to beat.

I, Jennifer Dunlap, leave my music talent to my sister Carrie, and also to Matt and Erin when they get here; fun times with Carrie to Mr. R. and Mr. G.; and memorable times at WLHS.

I, Heidi Ellis, leave my "bible" to J.L.; a loud, long laugh to F.X.F.; and my "Charlie Browns" to anyone with the guts to draw them.

I, Shawn Evans, leave my memories to Mr. C.

I, Matthew Farr, leave the great fun of honors English 3 and 4 to my brother Dan; and what's left of the swim team to B.F.

I, Amy Fish, leave my monotone to Scott Barber; my last name to Labbe; and a four year supply of chapstick to Steph — you'll need it!

I, Maura Gilberto, leave my spot in the bathroom to Laurey O.; our gym class to McFly; and the underclassmen to Mr. Santamaria.

I, Jennifer Grant, leave track practices and French 4 to Steve G.; and good luck to the D.V.T. clone!

I, Michael Haiko, leave with a lot of memories, good and bad, unfortunately more bad!

I, Jason Hamilton, leave my speed to Ryan Starky; my love to Leigh-Ann; and all the luck in the world to my brother Jerry in Mr. Flaherty's class.

I, Robert Handschumacher, leave all the teachers and coaches; and luck to the juniors, sophomores, and freshmen.

I, Krista Harlan, leave Monday mornings to Brian; special memories to the Class of '91; and the best of luck to Scott, Mike, and Nick.

I, Joshua Hebert, leave two more years of school to Denise: ha, ha!; good luck to Greger — have fun, cutie; and rubber reminders from the Nova.

I, Marcus Holmgren, leave good luck in high school to my sister April and to my best friend Jonathon; thanks to my Mom for always being there for me; and the driving to J.H.

I, Randall Horn, leave my space on the golf team to anyone who can make Mr. Beaudry as mad as I did; and my car's antifreeze leakage in the parking lot.

I, Ethel Jajliardo, leave all the good times to my sister Janis J. with hopes that she has them too.

I, DeAnna Johns, leave wild years in WLHS to Beck, Kel, Ana, and Jesse; "G", all arguments ended; and all of my love to Jason.

I, Matthew Kadish, leave the maneuver to Scott Dubey; Lisa Levy without a big brother; but most of all, I leave.

I, David Katawicz, leave good times with Mike Flynn, Mike Hazard, and Steph Banks.

I, Peter Lodola, leave a lifetime subscription of Salt to G.J.; a roll of toilet paper to J.L.; and "the VM bus tape" to E.M.

I, Michele Looby, leave my "foul" mouth to Mr. Widmer; and the best of luck to my sister when she gets here in three years.

I, Jennifer Lowe, leave the King's chair to Paul; #22 to anybody who wants it; and good luck in basketball and the rest of high school to Shelly B.

I, Kelly Luby, leave lots of luck, tons of fun, and all of my love to Kenny in his senior year; and McKeown knowing he has to put up with certain people for one more year, maybe two.

I, Karen MacDougald, leave the WLHS with four MacDougalds down and relief to Mr. S.; shocks for the Datsun to Tony (good luck Tony); and all detentions and suspensions to Mandy.

I, Cynthia Marinak, leave my 312 pairs of bizarre earrings; the continuing reign of royalty to Maura C.; and my laugh ringing in the halls.

I, Denise McCauley, leave a great four years to my sister Cheryl — make the best of them and don't do anything I wouldn't; an awesome senior year with passing grades to Doug G.; and "work hard" (at polo), and "Let me see your butterfly!" to my swimteam buddies.

I, Timothy McConnell, leave the Pan Flute to J.S.; An ollie kickflip to J.M.; and the rest of my hair to anyone who needs it.

I, John Menard, leave great times at WLHS to my cousin Dave.

I, Jennifer Mikalonis, leave the good times to my bro Jason, and to Joey Mazza; My heart to Denis; and one more year to Steph and Laurey O.

I, Darrell Mockus, leave my courage to anyone brave enough to drive with my friends; my Honda to anyone who can start it; and my sixteen places of employment.

I, Margarita Moore, leave my spandex pants; and the hurt and loneliness, and the choice of life to a child.

I, Jennifer Moselsky, leave my and L.T.'s locker to Amanda M.; and the memories of J.M. and L.T. 3 to Mr. S.

I, Teresa Murphy, leave good luck to Johnny and Scotty in their years of high school; the best of luck to Laurie O. in her senior year; and the memories of our senior class.

I, Todd Nash, leave chasing the women to J.B.; and S.S. to be a pain to anyone.

I, Michelle Navaroli, leave all the good times I have had to my brother Marc; a mind of her own to Becky, knowing there's nothing but an air bubble; and dozens of bananas to Gianna, to marry the hot Italian man of her dreams!

I, Susan Netcoh, leave the art of blushing to anyone who can do it better than I can; and I leave as the eighth and last Netcoh.

I, Craig Ouellette, leave all the good times I have had; the beast; and the friendships that I have had to Pablo. Good luck, Bro.

I, Tracy Paluck, leave the best of luck to Johnny and Scott in their years of high school; and the best of luck to Teresa Pospiech in her senior year.

I, Dawn Piel, leave my good studying habits to Carlene; and the memories of the Class of '90 to Mr. S.!

I, Paige Procopio, leave my parking space to Laurie Gaylord; all the "yeah-yeah's" she wants to yell to Erin Morris; and four great years you will cherish to all the upcoming freshmen.

I, Carrie Prue, leave Bri-babe missing his first period beatings; memories of her fair haired child and a promise to never ride an elephant to Mrs. Carroll; and the best of luck to MM, KM, BM, HH, WC, JB, and AH.

I, Sherry Quint, leave all the fun I have had in my senior year to Laura, Steph, Kris and Brian; all of the good times I have had in high school to Michelle and Amy; and my love always to Carl.

I, David Richards, leave my dignity for Jay S. to rank on; saying to Paula S., "I'll come back for you"; and saying to Dad, "your memory will never die."

I, Christine Riley, leave my brother Dan to the teachers; my flag to John L.; and my arguments with Brian to Mr. Borchetta.

I, Carrie Rutkauski, leave all my lunches to Michael; thanks to Mom and Dad for being there; and the nickname "Twit" to Mrs. Carroll since she deserves it.

I, Rasila Sadaria, leave this school with many happy memories with my friends; and the teachers who were there when I needed help in my studies.

I, Melissa Sargent, leave my shoe collection, which took four years to create, to Amy; senior year, to Les H. to find somebody else to "burn" in his math class; and three more exciting years of swimming with mad-dog to Nichole and the rest of the swim team.

I, Mike Sartori, leave my spinout to Josh Hebert.

I, Kimberly Scioscio, leave my brother Joel to have a good time and not to forget it.

I, Crystal Seamon, leave best wishes to my sister Cindy; the wrath of Mr. G. for Vocal Motion to still endure; and four years of wonderful memories.

I, Kathleen Shea, leave my car with no reverse; and one more year to Liza, who has yet to sign my yearbooks.

I, Lisa Shonty, leave Mike and Liz to maintain dad's grade point average; the challenge to shut off the Tourismo to anyone; and Steve with many special memories (I love you).

I, Mark Simonetta, leave basketball uniform #23; tandem essays; and diving drills with coach (without sweat pants).

I, James Skinner, leave my "No way" saying to Matt Smalley; my "Merry Christmas —" to Steve "Boner" Drapeau; and anyone who can call Frankie "Precious" like I did.

I, Michelle Soucie, leave someone to take care of "Mrs. W. "; the soccer team to Jessica Berube; and anyone to drive Mr. Elrick up a wall as much as I did.

I, Melissa Stoppa, leave the best of luck to Mandy DeRosa and Becky Connor in their future; Mom and Dad knowing that I made it through (with no problem); and the memory of our gym class to McFly.

I, James Stratton, leave chasing women to Mike Erickson.

I, Mark Strogoff, leave all of the fun of being a senior to Kathi; and my goggles to anyone who could ever catch me.

I, Jay Szepanski, leave my rude comments to anyone who can use them; books to anyone who understands them; and great memories that will last a lifetime.

I, Dan Taravella, leave my Capri to anyone who dares; and my job at Pizza Delite.

I, Teresa Tirio, leave J. Carterud and J. Messier the best of luck with three years to go; and Jay M. all the sundaes he can handle.

I, David Tria, leave bad luck with tickets to whoever can match mine; and Bob's nagging to my sister.

I, Michelle Torremeo, leave a fire starter (suitable for burning chemistry books).

I, Linda Tosado, leave my good memories to Stephanie Banks; all my favorite teachers to Karen; and thank you very much, Mr. Francoeur.

I, Jason Tucker, leave my bad habits and my ex-girlfriends.

I, Erika Watson, leave my great attendance record (joke).

I, Michael Webb, leave all the fun essays and hours of homework to Nik and Jeff; Mrs. Carroll's class to anyone who can be as wonderful as I was; and another cool math class and the grades to go with it to Scott!

I, Christina Wight, leave Kim and Steph to survive one more year; my brother to have great years in high school; and Jason, Tony, and Joey to live it up.

I, Craig Winter, leave the hair on my head; my swimming attire; and all of my swimming records.

I, Kathryn Zingle, leave the will power to change things; and a sense of humor in the math team.

What are your feelings about the Berlin Wall coming down?

"Good, but it's going to cause a lot of problems."
— Descera Daigle, Class of '93

"Good, it will make a change. I think it will bring this world together."
— Maura Cenci, Class of '92

"Outstanding event. It's definitely working towards worldwide unification."

— Steve Goralski, Class of '91

"Although I feel it's a step towards world peace, it's only the first step."
— Sue Netcoh, Class of '90

"Fantastic period of history. Great!"
— Mr. James Muska, teacher

Do you feel there is alcohol abuse among your peers?

"Oh yeah. Nothing is going to change it, we can't stop it. It's a big problem."
— Anonymous, Class of '93

"Yup, it's a big problem, but I don't think there's anything that can be done about it."

— Kelly Corey, Class of '92

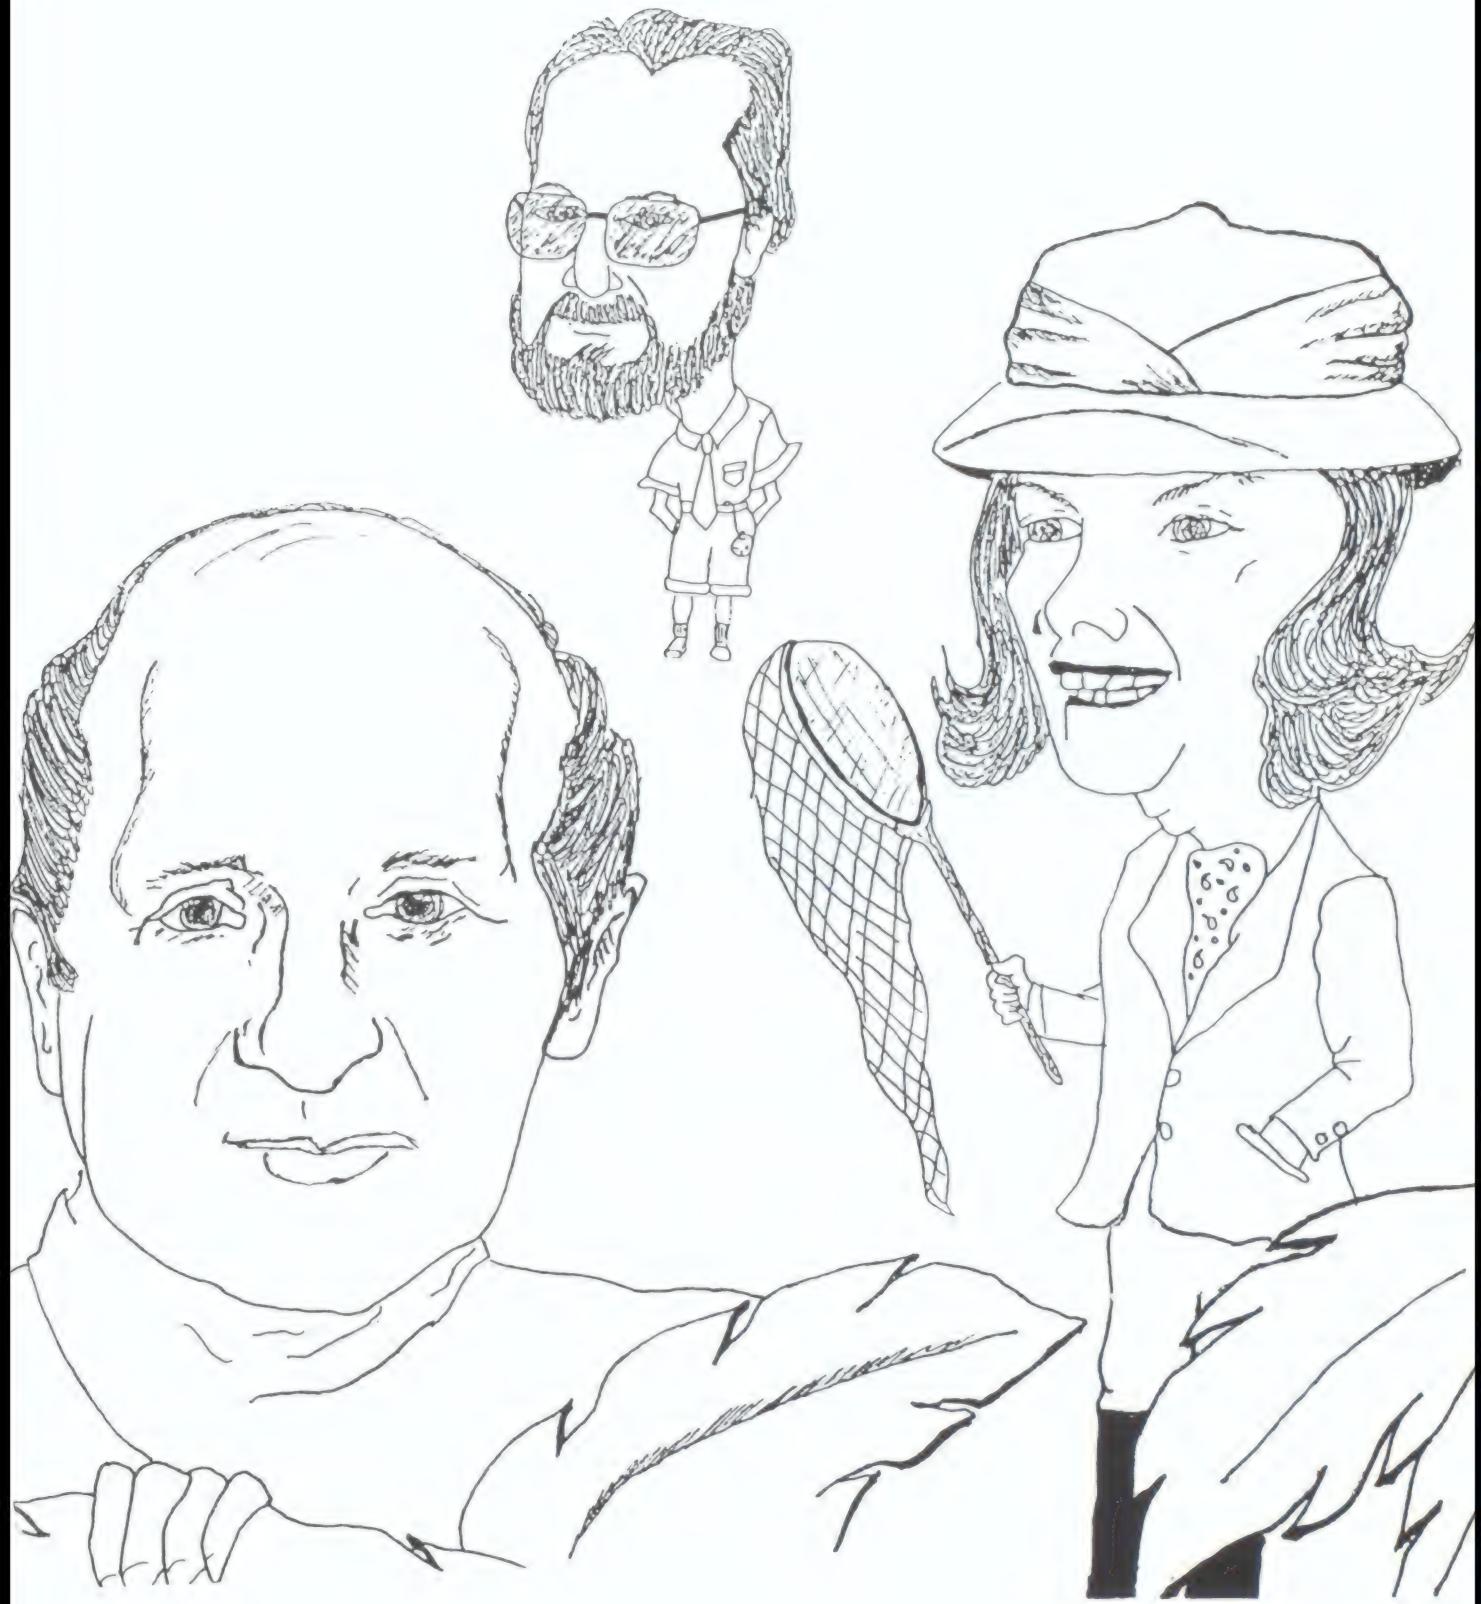

"Yeah. It's everywhere. There's nothing we can do about it. Everyone does it, from freshmen to seniors."
— Mike Ellis, Class of '91

"Everyone does it, but I don't see anyone making any attempts to rectify it. Nothing seems to be able to change this attitude."

— Anonymous, Class of '90

"Yes. It's no different than any other school. There's a lot of drinking going on. Social events revolve around it."

How do you feel about black rights activist, Nelson Mandela, being set free after being in prison for 27 years?

"Well, it's inspiring towards the African people. It will give the rest of the world a chance to think about apartheid."

— Jay Barbour, Class of '93

"I don't even know what he did."

— Raychelle Merrigan, Class of '92

"I think what he was doing was right. I feel there should be equal rights between blacks and whites."

— Kim Naughton, Class of '91

"I think he should have been set free long ago. I wish I was there to celebrate with them."

— DeAnna Johns, Class of '90

"I think it's a positive thing. I think it will have a positive effect on his nation."

— Ms. Linda Colo, teacher

What do you like or dislike about this school?

"It's a decent school, it's pretty good. I like the basketball games and all the spirit that goes with them."

— Cindy Seamon, Class of '93

"We wish there were more school activities, like pep rallies, dances, and especially a lacrosse team. We'd also like to have a soda machine in the cafeteria."

— Ryan Tomalonis and Chuck Bonadies, Class of '92

"It's cool. We like the sports, but the one drawback is that we never get any snow days off. Most of the teachers are alright. Our junior class has a lot of spirit."

— Les Hinckley and John Majewski, Class of '91

"It's a small school, everyone knows each other - that's good, but that's bad in some ways, too."

— Denise McCauley, Class of '90

"I like the fact that the people in the school community, the students especially, are tightly knit. If someone comes from Windsor Locks, it means something to another person who comes from Windsor Locks."

— Mr. Randy Widmer, teacher

Now we are about to embark on a new journey — a journey of a different kind. This new journey will take us in many different directions, where new safaris will begin.

As we grow older, we see how our earliest safari through school has shaped our lives. And from this knowledge everything grows — our lives, ourselves, and our choices.

What is a Bargain?
Beware of advertisements which claim huge savings on diamonds. If a diamond is sold at a "bargain" price it is usually because it is an inferior gem. Our membership in the American Gem Society is your assurance of honest value. It costs no more and often less to buy your diamond from a reputable firm that cares about you.
